VICTIM IN RAIL RIDING CASE IS PAID

Mrs. Minnie Richardson Gets Check for $1,700 from Daughters of Mrs. Raymond

RESUME OF FAMOUS CASE

Attorney E. V. Orvis on Monday received in the mails, two checks which spelled the finale of the famous Volo rail-riding incident which, June 13, 1913, stirred Lake county and in fact the nation when a group of women took Mrs. John Richardson and rode her on a rail because they did not believe her actions toward Bill Dunnill were entirely in keeping with the staid town-life.

The checks are in settlement of the judgment which Mrs. Richardson secured against the women rail-riders and came from the two daughters of Mrs. Lavina Raymond, on whose shoulder the entire burden of cost came because the other women were found not financially responsible.

The total amount covered by the two checks was $1,742.50. Each check was made out for $871.25, one signed by Mrs. V. L. Lusk one by Mrs. Charles Kapple, daughters of Mrs. Raymond. Mrs. Lusk was Mrs. Raymond's administratrix under the will filed in county court.

Mrs. Richardson is still in Chicago and it is said that she has been ill for some time and unable to make her living.

The climax followed in this order:
1—Mrs. Dunnill and Dunnill for divorce.

2—Mrs. Richardson went to Chicago to live with her sister and never again lived with her husband.

3—Richardson was boycotted in his business at Volo and sold out at a sacrifice, later moving to Grayslake where he ran a store for a time.

Mrs. Richardson brought suit for $100,000 damages against the Volo women whom she claimed rode her on a rail and impaired her health. A jury verdict awarded her damages of $3,600. This verdict was held excessive and was cut to $1,500 by the judge.

4—Mrs. Raymond was one of the women who was made defendant. Before judgment was entered Mrs. Raymond was charged the court then back the judgment in the case as claimed that Mrs. Raymond was a member of the band of women who were financially able to pay the judgment.

5—The estate of Mrs. Raymond took an appeal to the Appellate court, asking that the act of the circuit judge in entering judgment be set aside.

In the meantime attorneys for Mrs. Richardson went into County court and filed a claim against the Raymond estate. The judge of the County court declined to allow the claim until the Appellate court had ruled.

Later the Appellate court entered a ruling in which the judgement of the Circuit Court was affirmed. It was announced immediately that attorneys for the Raymond estate would take an appeal to the Supreme court. Pending this ruling the claim in the County Court was allowed.

The appellate court was recently sustained by the Supreme court and accordingly the judgement was formally entered in county court and the heirs at law of Mrs. Raymond decided to settle for the full amount, and the checks were sent.

Elmer Taylor Arrives from France.
Elmer Taylor, who has been with the heavy tank corps in France, has received an honorable discharge, and returned to the home of his mother at this place Wednesday afternoon. He was accompanied by Marjorie Nelson of Kenosha, who has also received his discharge and who is now visiting at the Taylor home.

Stranger Dies From Heart Disease

A couple of weeks ago two men, very plainly foreigners, came to Antioch and rented rooms of William Keulman in the building in the rear of his jewelry store. The two men were strangers to each other, but happened to be sent here together by the beat sugar company to work in the beat fields.

One of the men, Joe Huber by name, was sick at the time of his arrival and was unable to work. Mr. Keulman, learning that he was ill, called a physician to attend him and done all he could in seeing that he was provided with necessities.

An effort was made to find out something of his family, but further than that he had a daughter in Milwaukee and a wife in the old country, nothing was learned. Mr. Keulman visited him Thursday afternoon and upon returning asked Mrs. Keulman to prepare something for Huber to eat. This she did and in less than a half hour took him the food. To her surprise she noticed his peculiar position as soon as she entered the room. Going immediately to him she found that he was dead.

Supervisor Webb was notified and he communicated with the daughter, but as she was not at all interested in the matter, the remains were taken to Libertyville and buried at the expense of the county.

Petitions Are Out To Raise Money For Oil

Petitions are being circulated among the business people and residents of this village, to raise a fund for the purchasing of a ten thousand gallon tank of oil to be used on the principal and most traveled streets.

This work is in charge of the Antioch Commercial association and all funds collected for the purpose will be handled by the Association.

The committee in charge have obtained prices on the oil and have found that the 10,000 gallons can be purchased for $625.00 f. o. b. Antioch, and estimate of $75.00 was placed on the work of spreading, thus bringing the total cost to $700.00. Should the subscriptions exceed this amount the surplus will remain in the treasury of the association to be used for filling holes and keeping the streets in good condition.

Gurnee Farmer Dies From Kick by Horse

John Dalziel, well known resident of Gurnee, who was fatally injured Wednesday when he was kicked in the stomach by a horse, rallied long enough at the McAllister hospital to make his will, following which he had a relapse and died Friday morning. He was one of Gurnee's well-to-do farmers. He recently sold his farm which is located about two miles west and two miles north of Gurnee, to Ed Cunningham, and was to give possession this fall.

Antioch Loses Game With Silverlake

Last Sunday afternoon Antioch met Silverlake in a hotly contested ball game on the Silverlake grounds. In the second inning Silverlake got in two runs, and Antioch came up even with them by making two scores in the sixth. Silverlake then made one in the seventh and two in the eighth. Antioch had men on bases in both seventh and eighth innings but could not make a score. A large crowd was out and rooted strongly for the home team. Antioch will play on their home grounds in the near future.

Notice to the Public

The remainder of the fund collected from the business men last fall for graveling the streets has been used for filling holes in streets. The work was done by John Dupre.

CHICAGOANS IN CRASH AT FOX LAKE

Auto Accident Monday Night in Which Chicago Labor Agent is Victim

GOING 60 MILES AN HOUR

That seven persons were not killed outright when a seven passenger touring car turned turtle three or four times in making a turn at Fox Lake Monday evening about 8:30 o'clock when the auto was traveling at least sixty miles an hour is one of the miracles of the season.

When a young man was seen driving the car at a terrific rate toward the Colonial hotel, witnesses predicted that something would happen, and it did.

As the car reached the turn where the road leads to the Colonial and other Inns the suspected happened, the car turned turtle not once but two or three times and the several occupants were hurled right and left and most of them lay prone on the ground when the crowd gathered.

The victims included the following: Mr. and Mrs. Frank White of Chicago, both of whom were very badly hurt internally.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shield of Chicago, both badly hurt. Shield's injury consisting of a broken shoulder, his wives injuries being internal and also to her limbs. Shield is a prominent labor agent in Chicago.

Another occupant was said to have been Miss Kupperman who had been staying at Long Lake. Another young lady's name was not obtained. The car was being driven by a young fellow named Arthur, his last name not being given.

The victims were carried to the Willis Inn where Dr. Schaffer of Grayslake attended them. It was conceded that all were seriously hurt and for a time it was feared that Mrs. Shield would not survive. However late reports were that she was improving and it is likely that no fatality will result from the accident. The car was completely demolished.

Grayslake Girl Jumps Into Lake Michigan

Despondent because of a blasted love affair, pretty Nellie Dailey, an 18 year old Grayslake girl, leaped off the south pier into Lake Michigan at Waukegan, Thursday night about six o'clock in an effort to commit suicide. A sailor from Great Lakes to whom the young woman had confided her intention, leaped into the water after her and succeeded in rescuing her although she fought to break away from him.

Inquiries are being made at the naval station to locate a sailor named Edward Harper, said to be connected with the detail office. Following her unsuccessful attempt to take her life the girl begged that the authorities communicate with Harper and ask him to call and see her. The authorities think that Harper may be able to throw light on the affair for Miss Dailey positively declines to relate any details of the incident.

According to the statement made to the police by her father this is not the first time that the young woman has attempted to end her own life. It was only a few months ago, it is said, when she swallowed poison, but the prompt service of a physician saved her life.

It seems that the young woman left her home at Grayslake over a week ago, leaving the impression that she was going to Milwaukee. When she did not return the family became worried and even now a brother is in Milwaukee seeking to find some trace of the young woman.

Herbert Strang Dies Very Suddenly

Lake County friends of Herbert Strang, a son of former postmaster Thomas Strang, of Libertyville and late of Wadsworth will be surprised to hear that he dropped dead suddenly at his home in Highland Park Thursday evening. Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause.

Mr. Strang was 40 years old and had been employed as conductor on the electric line for the past twenty years. He was one of the oldest men in service on the road.

He was feeling as good as usual on Thursday, chatted with friends in the street before going home for the night and his shockingly sudden death was hard to understand. He had worked all day and it was nine o'clock when he reached his home. He picked up the paper and made the remark to his wife that he had a strange pain in his system.

Shortly afterwards he was obliged to go to bed, and at eleven o'clock he had succumbed.

Besides his wife he leaves four children. The wife and children returned from Florida only five weeks ago. Mrs. Strang formerly was Miss Ives.

There have been four deaths in the Strang family since last October. At that time Wesley Strang of Gurnee, died from wounds received in action in France. Mrs. Ed Bartlett of Wadsworth died the latter part of December. Henry Strang of Waukegan died May 12. Mrs. Bartlett was a sister of Henry Strang and an aunt of Wesley and Herbert Strang.

The body of Wesley Strang will be brought home from France for burial, relatives having requested the government to do so. They had the choice of leaving his body in France or placing it in the national cemetery in Washington or returning it to Gurnee.

Mrs. L. Sowles Receives Souvenir Gun from France

Mrs. Lois Sowles is in receipt of a German gun, sent to her as a souvenir by Bernie Fields, who is still overseas. Fields took the gun from a dead German and preserved it as a souvenir. In order to send it to America he sawed the stock in two, and was thus enabled to do it up in three separate packages. Each package was securely wrapped and mailed at separate times.

One arrived last Saturday, another Monday forenoon and the third Monday afternoon. Clyde Fields who spent some time in France made short work of assembling the parts and it is now on exhibition at Mrs. Sowles' restaurant, where it is receiving unlimited attention.

A glance shows that it is of an old pattern, and a rusty metal plate bearing the inscription "Loewe Berlin, 1890" gives rise to the opinion that it was manufactured in that year.

Sale of Besley Brewery to Park Board

According to the records, the Waukegan park district this week took title to the old Besley Brewery company property, consideration $16,750, the sale being made through Master in Chancery Beabain.

The taking over of this property puts an end to the plans to have an artificial ice plant installed there as was the hope when Messrs. Beabain, Edwards and Finkelstein some time ago purchased it from the Chicago interests.

The park district needed the property it is stated, to carry out its plans for a park up the ravine and of course the old brewery buildings will be torn down to make way for the improvements that makes up the park idea.

Ancient Jewels.

That women of ancient times were not less fond of jewelry than those of today might reasonably be taken for granted. But the remarkable fact (as recently ascertained by archeologists) is that the jewelry they wore at a period, let us say, 1,000 years before the birth of Christ—was fully equal in artistic workmanship to the best products of the twentieth century.

Salt Used as Money.
The value of salt is recognized in all countries, and in those parts of the world where it is scarce it is used as money. In some parts of Abyssinia bars of salt and rifle cartridges are the only small change in circulation. The bars are ten inches long and two inches in length and breadth. Five or eight "salts" make one dollar, depending on the distance of the source of supply. Three cartridges have the value of one salt.

Constable is to Levy Where Personal Tax is Unpaid

Lake county residents who have not yet paid their personal property tax would better watch their step for they are not going to escape this year as they have in other years. The county treasurer is going to collect every cent of personal tax or know the reason why.

Announcement was made at the office of the county treasurer Tuesday that final notices are being issued by the treasurer to all delinquent personal property taxpayers. This tax the county treasurer says, must be paid by June 1.

After that the matter is to be turned over to a constable who will proceed to make a levy on property wherever the tax is not paid. Constable fees will be added to the tax.

In past years the collection of taxes has been made by the town collectors and many of those who wished to escape paying their personal taxes have been able to escape. This year the entire collection has been placed in the hands of the county treasurer and he asserts that he is going to make a complete clean-up and wipe his books clean of all delinquents.

Illegal Voting in Area, Charged
A. H. Smith of Area charges that he would be president of that village were it not for the fact that fraud entered into the election held there April 15, of this year. Smith, through Attorney George W. Field Wednesday filed a petition in circuit court, contesting the election and asking that he be declared elected instead of Thomas Russell who was declared to have defeated him by a margin of two votes.

Smith charges that at the election seventy voters wrote his name in on the ballot and he charges that this all was done according to proper form but he made the additional charges:

1—That the judges who counted the ballots credited him with but 65 votes.
2—That Russell was declared to have had 67 votes.

3—That votes were cast for Russell by people who were not bona fide electors of Area and that certain mutilated ballots were counted for Russell when they should have been declared void.

4—That he would have won by a margin of at least ten votes over Russell had not the total vote cast for the latter been at through error and fraud.

Smith asks that a recount be granted by the court and that the 143 ballots cast be passed upon by the court, and the result given out according to the finding.

Mrs. John Horcher Dies After Short Illness
On Saturday of last week at her home at Loon Lake occurred the death of Mrs. John Horcher, after an illness of only a week's duration, pneumonia being the cause.

The deceased was born in Germany, and her maiden name was Mary Pfannenstiel. She was forty-eight years, nine months and five days of age at the time of her demise.

She is survived by her husband and two daughters.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday and the remains were laid at rest in the Catholic cemetery at Fremont Center.

Make This Test For Acid-Stomach

There are millions of people who suffer almost daily from the horrors of an acid-stomach—indigestion; sour, gassy, stomach; distressing heartburn; sickening food-repelling; painful bloating and that miserable, putrid, lumpy feeling after eating. Many of these people have tried treatment after treatment; medicine after medicine; others have gone to doctors and stomach specialists and some to hospitals, but in spite of all their efforts they have obtained no lasting relief or a permanent cure.

These symptoms simply mean acid-stomach. It allowed to run on, they are very likely to cause a lot of serious trouble. Dyspepsia, rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, splitting headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, mental depression, melancholia, a feeling of listlessness and all-goneness—these are just a few of the disorders which can be traced to acid-stomach. As a matter of fact, acid-stomach is often the direct cause of those almost incurable conditions known as catarrh of the stomach, intestinal ulcer, and cancer of the stomach. The lives of those who suffer from these serious troubles are nothing short of daily agony. Surely, then, you must see how important it is to go at once to the seat of the trouble—acid-stomach. You know what acid-stomach does to the teeth—how it eats right through the hard enamel and causes them to decay. Think then of the havoc that must be caused by excess acid in the stomach!

Even if you are not suffering any immediate stomach pains, but are not feeling just as fit and fine as you should, you should by all means make this test: Go to your drug store at once and get a big box of EATONIC. It is in the form of pleasant-tasting tablets—you eat them like a bit of candy. EATONIC is prepared for just one purpose—correcting acid-stomach by driving out the excess acid. EATONIC literally absorbs the excess acid. It brings instant relief from the pains of indigestion, heartburn, belching, sour, gassy stomach, bloating, etc. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable, puts it in a normal, healthy condition, so that your food is properly digested. You need every bit of strength you can possibly get out of the food you eat—and EATONIC helps you get it.

Don't put this test off if you value your future good health and happiness. You run no chance at all because EATONIC is absolutely guaranteed to give you relief or your druggist will refund your money. The cost is a mere trifle.

TRIBUTE TO SLAIN NURSE

Edith Cavell's Body Is Taken to Westminster Abbey in England for Memorial Service.

London, May 17.—England paid tribute here to Edith Cavell, the English nurse executed by the Germans at Brussels October 12, 1915, when her body, en route from Brussels to her native city of Norwich, was taken to Westminster abbey for an impressive memorial service.

It was a public funeral, in which it seemed every resident of the great metropolis endeavored to participate. The streets through which the cortege moved were congested with crowds, and every inch of standing room in the neighborhood of the abbey was occupied by a densely massed multitude which was eager to do reverent homage to "that brave woman," as the bishop of London described her, "who deserves a great deal from the British empire."

The congregation at the abbey included high officials of the government, representatives of foreign countries and men prominent in many walks of life.

Marble Floor Finish

For outside work and all surfaces exposed to water, use Vernosite. It will not turn white from rain or sleet and the sun will not blister it.

For inside woodwork where extremely transparent varnish is required, use Pale Interior. It preserves the natural beauty of the wood, is hard to mar and won't scratch white.

For all floors inside use Marble Floor Finish. It waterproofs the wood, and enables it to withstand the severest wear and tear without marring.

Never take chances with varnish. Get Devoe and be sure. Remember, we guarantee satisfaction. Ask for booklet—"Seeing the Brighter Side."

CONGRESS HEARS MESSAGE FROM CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Recommendations of Much Importance Made in Document Read to Legislators.

NEED FOR MEASURES TO CHECK ANARCHISM

Prevalent Unrest of Labor Pointed Out as Constituting Grave Danger—Recommendations of Woman Suffrage—Would Have Ban on Liquor Business Delayed—Until Nation-Wide Prohibition Comes Into Force.

Washington, May 20.—Patrick J. Hattigan, regular reading clerk of the house, read the president's message to congress today, practically as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Congress: I deeply regret my inability to be present at the opening of the extraordinary session of the congress. It still seems to be my duty to take part in the councils of the peace conference and contribute what I can to the solution of the innumerable questions to whose settlement it has had to address itself; for they are questions which affect the peace of the whole world and from them, therefore, the United States cannot stand apart. I deemed it my duty to call the congress together at this time because it was not wise to postpone longer the provisions which must be made for the support of the government. Many of the appropriations which are absolutely necessary for the maintenance of the government and the fulfillment of its varied obligations for the fiscal year 1919-1920 have not yet been made; the end of the present fiscal year is at hand; and action upon these appropriations can no longer be prudently delayed. It is necessary, therefore, that I should immediately call your attention to this critical need. It is hardly necessary for me to urge that it may receive your prompt attention.

"I shall take the liberty of addressing you on my return on the subjects which have most engrossed our attention and the attention of the world during these last anxious months.

Domestic Legislation.

"I hesitate to venture any opinion or press any recommendation with regard to domestic legislation while absent from the United States and out of daily touch with intimate sources of information and counsel. I am conscious that I need, after so long an absence from Washington, to seek the advice of those who have remained in constant contact with domestic problems and who have known them close at hand from day to day; and I trust that it will very soon be possible for me to do so. But there are several questions pressing for consideration to which I feel that I may, and indeed must, even now direct your attention, if only in general terms. In speaking of them I shall, I dare say, be doing little more than speak your own thoughts. I hope that I shall speak your own judgment also.

"The question which stands at the front of all others in every country amidst the present great awakening is the question of labor; and perhaps I can speak of it with as great advantage while engrossed in the consideration of interests which affect all countries alike as I could at home and amidst the interests which naturally most affect my thought, because they are the interests of our people.

Rights of the Worker.

"By the question of labor I do not mean the question of efficient industrial production, the question of how labor is to be obtained and made effective in the great process of sustaining populations and winning success amidst commercial and industrial rivalries. I mean that much greater and more vital question, how are the men and women who do the daily labor of the world to obtain progressive improvement in the conditions of their labor, to be made happier, and to be served better by the communities and the industries which their labor sustains and advances? How are they to be given their right advantage as citizens and human beings?

Justice to Capital and Labor.

"We cannot go any further in our present direction. We have already gone too far. We cannot live our right life as a nation or achieve our proper success as an industrial community if capital and labor are to be antagonistic instead of being partners. If they are to continue to distrust one another and contrive how they can get the better of one another, or what perhaps amounts to the same thing, calculate by what form and degree of coercion they can manage to extort on the one hand work enough to make enterprise profitable, on the other justice and fair treatment enough to

Why Children Have Bad Tonsils.

The treatment of "bad tonsils" should begin in childhood. There is no more reason why children should have hypertrophied tonsils than there is for having any other of the diseases of childhood. Those children which are overfed from the day of their birth, and are given meat, potatoes, puddings, pie, cake and other cereal products, soon after weaning, and often before that period, most commonly suffer from "tonsils." Warm water bathing, over-heated houses, lack of exercise, fresh air and sunshine, and suppression of acute diseases—all tend to a retention of poison and congestion of mucous membranes, and hence "tonsils" and tonsillitis.

Milk and fruit juices should be the sole diet of a child up to two years, and then fruits, juicy vegetables, nuts and a very few of the cereals should gradually be added.—Exchange.

How to Command Success.

The man with vim and dash is everywhere crowding out the one who which we were associated in the war, and those loans will, of course, constitute assets not liabilities, and will not have to be taken care of by our taxpayers.

"The main thing we shall have to care for is that our taxation shall rest as lightly as possible on the productive resources of the country, that its rates shall be stable, and that it shall be constant in its revenue-yielding power.

"Many of the minor taxes provided for in the federal legislation of 1917 and 1918, though no doubt made necessary by the pressing necessities of the war time, can hardly find sufficient justification under the easier circumstances of peace, and can now happily be got rid of. Among these, I hope you will agree, are the excises upon various manufactures and the taxes upon retail sales. They are unequal in the incidence on different industries and on different individuals. Their collection is difficult and expensive. Those which are levied upon articles sold at retail are largely evaded by the readjustment of retail prices. On the other hand, I should assume that it is expedient to maintain a considerable range of indirect taxes; and the fact that alcoholic liquors will presently no longer afford a source of revenue by taxation makes it the more necessary that the field should be carefully restudied in order that equivalent sources of revenue may be found which will be legitimate and not burdensome to draw upon.

Import Duties Correct.

"There is, fortunately, no occasion for undertaking in the immediate future, any general revision of our system of import duties. No serious danger of foreign competition now threatens American industries. Our country has emerged from the war less disturbed and less weakened than any of the European countries which are our competitors in manufacture. So far from there being any danger or need of accentuated foreign competition, it is likely that the conditions of the next few years will greatly facilitate the marketing of American manufactures abroad. Least of all should we depart from the policy adopted in the tariff act of 1913, of permitting the free entry into the United States of the raw materials needed to supplement and enrich our own abundant supplies.

Asks Woman Suffrage.

"Will you not permit me, turning from these matters, to speak once more, and very earnestly, of the proposed amendment to the Constitution which would extend the suffrage to women and which passed the house of representatives at the last session of the congress? It seems to me that every consideration of justice and of public advantage calls for the immediate adoption of that amendment and its submission forthwith to the legislatures of the several states. Throughout all the world this long-delayed extension of the suffrage is looked for.

"The telegraph and telephone lines will, of course, be returned to their owners so soon as the retransfer can be effected without administrative confusion; so soon that is, as the change can be made with least possible inconvenience to the public and to the owners themselves. The railroads will be handed over to their owners at the end of the calendar year; if I were in immediate contact with the administrative questions which must govern the retransfer of the telegraph and telephone lines, I could name the exact date for their return also. Until I am in direct contact with the practical questions involved I can only suggest in the case of the telegraphs and telephones, as in the case of their railways, it is clearly desirable in the public interest that some legislation should be considered which may tend to make of these indispensable instrumentalities of our modern life a uniform and co-ordinated system which will afford those who use them a complete and certain means of communication.

"The demobilization of the military forces of the country has progressed to such a point that it seems to me entirely safe now to remove the ban upon the manufacture and sale of wine and beer, but I am advised that without further legislation I have not the legal authority to remove the present restrictions. I therefore recommend that the act approved November 21, 1918, entitled, 'An act to entitle the secretary of agriculture to carry out during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, the purposes of the act entitled 'An act to provide further for the national security and defense by stimulating and facilitating the distribution of agricultural products,' and for other purposes,' be amended or repealed in so far as it applies to wines and beers.

"I sincerely trust that I shall very soon be at my post in Washington again to report upon the matters which made my presence at the peace table apparently imperative, and to put myself at the service of the congress in every matter of administration or counsel that may seem to demand executive action or advice.

EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS ON

Republicans Are in Full Control—Seven Big Appropriation Bills to Be Passed.

GILLETT IS ELECTED SPEAKER

League of Nations, Railroads, Shipping, Woman Suffrage Taken Up—Berger Refused Recognition by the Speaker.

Washington, May 21.—The "reconstruction" congress, assembling in extraordinary session Monday, under the call by President Wilson from Paris May 7, marks the return to power of the Republicans and loss by the Democrats of control over the national legislature.

Representative Gillett of Massachusetts (Rep.) was elected speaker of the house over Champ Clark (Dem.). By a majority of two votes the Republicans took control of the senate, electing Senator Cummings president pro tempore and defeating Senator Key Pittman of Nevada, Democrat, by a record vote of 47 to 42.

The woman suffrage constitutional amendment got top place on the house calendar. By general agreement Representative Mann's joint resolution, similar to the measure passed last session by the house and defeated in the senate, was designated No. 1.

A resolution to repeal the luxury tax as of the war revenue, agreed upon by leaders of both parties at the last session was introduced by Representative Moore of Pennsylvania as a part of the Republican party's legislative program.

The business of swearing in new senators was disposed of quickly. In the house there was a greater number of new members and it took longer. All the Republican senators were present; four Democrats were absent.

The immediate work is passage before July 1 of seven regular annual appropriation bills which failed in the senate filibuster last March.

After that will come consideration of the peace treaty and of the league of nations, and railroad, shipping, revenue, woman suffrage, prohibition, army and navy and many other measures. Many investigations, particularly into war activities, are expected.

The Republicans, for the first time since 1911, had majorities in both branches of congress as a result of the congressional elections last November.

In the house they have a margin of 40 votes. In the senate their majority is only two.

Republican action is restrained by President Wilson's veto power. Cooperation between administration officials and the Republicans is expected on uncontested matters.

The avalanche of bills and resolutions incident to a new session began in the house, but introduction of senate measures went over.

Final action by the senate on the peace treaty and the covenant of the league of nations before July 1 is not generally expected, although much discussion meanwhile is planned. Besides the treaty itself the proposed agreement with Great Britain and France for protection of France from attack by Germany promises much discussion.

Prohibition enforcement legislation is expected to receive early attention. Repeal of the war prohibition measures as well as the constitutional amendment is to be urged.

Victor Berger of Wisconsin, whose right to a seat is contested because he is under conviction for violation of the espionage law, did not attempt to vote.

When the name of Berger was called as new members were sworn, Representative Dallinger of Massachusetts, chairman of the elections committee, formally challenged his right to be seated.

Speaker Gillett directed Berger to stand aside when he appeared for the oath, and refused to recognize him when he tried to speak as a matter of personal privilege.

"Gunter, the confectioner, left his statement with Sheridan one morning, and a few hours later Hanson, the ironmonger, called.

"Hanson was very pressing on the subject of his account. He harangued and he harangued. Sheridan, broke, as usual, paced the floor in despair.

"But suddenly an idea struck the spendthrift and he said:

"'You know Gunter?'

"'One of the safest men in London,' Hanson replied.

"'Then you will be satisfied if I give you his bill for the amount?'

"'Certainly.'

"'Sheridan thereupon handed the ironmonger Gunter's neatly folded account, snatched up his hat and rushed forth.'

Suffered for Years Miserable From Kidney Trouble.

Doan's Made Mr. Barnett Strong and Well.

"I suffered untold agony with my kidneys for years," says John Barnett, 30 Virginia Place, Buffalo, N. Y. "Sometimes I felt that I would burn up with fever, but every now and then would have a severe chill. Often my clothes were wringing wet with perspiration. The kidney secretions were unnatural in color and odor and burned terribly. At night my shoes were so tight on my feet that I could hardly get them off and my hands swelled so I couldn't hold a teacup. My back! Oh, how ached! I walked with a limp and was all bent over like an aged man. When the terrible pains shot through my kidneys, my knees would give way and many times I had to be lifted to my feet by people on the street. I didn't care whether I lived or died. I was so miserable. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me of all kidney trouble. Doan's made me strong and well."

Board's Visit Over, Small Boy Couldn't See Further Necessity for So Much Soap and Water.

He was a new little boy at the orphanage and was much impressed by all the scrubbing and cleaning he saw done there, more so because he had come from a home in which disorder and dirt had held sway. He could not understand it; more than that, it irritated him, and when he got the job of scrubbing the dining room, he was almost ready to leave.

But just then came a new excitement to the home. The board was coming to make its annual tour of inspection, and the cleaning was doubled. "Get ready for the board," was the home watchword, it seemed, and he, being very human, decided to stay until that big event was over.

The day of visiting came and passed. The next morning the new youngster sought the matron. "Now that there boards has been here, I don't see no use of scrubbing them steps so often—do you?" he asked.

MEMORIAL DAY — ITS ORIGIN

On May, 1902, the Washington Post published an article on the origin of Memorial day, which contained this paragraph:

"Should the United States desire to erect a monument to the man in whose brain originated the idea of a national Memorial day, the place on the granite should bear the simple word 'Considerable controversy has appeared in relation to the author of the suggestion, but it has found lodgment in the war department at once.'"

Memorial day, May 30, though widely known as a national holiday, is a day of state laws and general observance and not because of act of Congress. Congress has practically no laws creating holidays for the country. It has designated the first Sunday in May as Mother's day, and President Wilson, by proclamation May 30, 1910, requested that it be observed as Flag day. But no law has been enacted to make it a national holiday.

There is no controversy over the fact that Memorial day was first so designated in general orders to members of the Grand Army of the Republic by Gen. John A. Logan, the commander in chief. This order is as follows, as preserved in the G. A. R. headquarters in Philadelphia:

Headquarters Grand Army of the Republic, Adjutant General's Office, 445 Seventh street, Washington, D. C., May 5, 1868.

General Orders No. 11.

That the 30th day of May, 1868, is designated as a day of strewing flowers and decorating the graves of our comrades who died in the defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in every city, village and hamlet in the land. In absence of any form of ceremony, but posts and comrades in arms to arrange such services and testimonials of respect as may be permitted.

Organized comrades, as our duty, let us, for the purpose of preserving and honoring the memory of those kind and fraternal comrades who have bound together the soldiers and marines who suppressed the late rebellion, and more to assure this remembrance, tenderly the memory of the dead, who made their sacrifice between our country and the foe? Their soldier lives are a sacrifice of freedom to a race and their deaths the tattoo of tyranny in arms. We will guard their graves with sacredness. Let all that the consecrated ground of the nation can add to the memory of her heroes. Let no wanton foot tread on such hallowed grounds. Let paths invite the coming of reverent visitors and fond memories. Let no vandalism of avarice or of the ravages of time deface or destroy the monuments to their memory.

Let us, then, at the time appointed gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude, the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

"2. It is the purpose of the commander in chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to lend its friendly aid in bringing to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

"3. Department commanders will use efforts to make this order effective.

Commander in Chief.

to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

"If other eyes grow dull, other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us.

"Let us, then, at the time appointed gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude, the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

"2. It is the purpose of the commander in chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to lend its friendly aid in bringing to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith.

"3. Department commanders will use efforts to make this order effective.

"By order of

"JOHN A. LOGAN,
Commander in Chief.
"N. P. CHIPMAN,
Adjutant General."

General Logan's "general order" was followed by the observance of the first Memorial day in seventeen states. Maine in 1874 made Memorial day a legal holiday. Massachusetts did the same in 1881. Other states followed. Now Memorial day (May 30) is a legal holiday in most of the northern states. Alabama, Georgia, Florida and Mississippi observe April 26 and North and South Carolina May 10.

So the origin of the observance of Memorial day on May 30 is settled beyond question.

But where did the idea that lies back of the observance of Memorial day originate? Here indeed is room for controversy.

In the first place there were decorations of Civil war graves previous to 1868 in various localities of the North and South. These were mostly informal. The earliest date back to the days of war itself and were merely local observances.

October 6, 1860, Col. Andrew H. H. Dawson, who had fought on the Confederate side, in the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, addressed 4,000 people and said in part:

"Let the North and the South meet as friends. Let them share common griefs, sacred sorrows. Let the daughters of the North and the daughters of the South meet with their floral offerings annually, on some great memorial day, on the fields where our heroes sleep their last sleep, and let their tears fall together upon the lowly pillows of their loved and lost. Let them kneel together there, and let their prayers for the welfare of our common country rise, as it were, on the wings of the same breath, and soar to heaven. Angels will be waiting at the portals of the skies to bear them to the men who gave themselves to their country should be kept up, and if so the arrangements for the time when living veterans of that war are no longer able to direct the memorial should be discussed and decided.

Worth Makes the Hero.

And so, my boy, I would have you honor the grizzly heroes. Their dress does not match well with modern fashions, but their motives cannot be easily improved upon. And after all the man is not made by his clothes. At this time the living heroes pay tribute to their fallen comrades. With bent forms and uncertain steps many of them follow the bugle call, but in their hearts and flashing from their eyes is the same fire that won the victories of the past. Soon some of them will fall and their comrades will have another mound to dedicate each 30th of May. And they who remain are just as truly heroes as those over whom the eulogies are spoken and the flowers laid. It is not death but worth that makes a hero.—Grit.

GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN,
COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF G.A.R. IN 1868

to the footstool of the Great White Throne; and the God of our country will hear and answer them; fraternal feelings will revisit the riven land; man will recognize again in man his brother; sectional prejudices will pass away; sectionalism will receive (the rebuke it deserves; and peace and prosperity, harmony and happiness will crown a national glory and grandeur without parallel in the annals of ages."

The following published statement is presumably true: "In the early spring of 1867 Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Kimball, of West Philadelphia, Pa., were visiting several points in the South. Mrs. Kimball, upon returning to Philadelphia, wrote to General Logan, an old friend, stating that in her visit to the South 'she had particularly noticed the southern women decorating the graves of their dead, fallen in battle,' and suggesting to him that, 'as the commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic,' he should 'have our heroic soldiers whose lonely graves are, many unmarked, remembered in the same beautiful way.' General Logan quickly and heartily approved Mrs. Kimball's suggestion, informing her by letter that he felt that 'such a touching tribute to his dead comrades 'would undoubtedly meet with general favor.' General Logan frequently and explicitly, in public and in private, gave Mrs. Kimball credit for the suggestion in her letter.

In view of these statements if a monument is created it would seem fitting that it should contain these names, instead of bearing the nameplate 'Unknown':

ANDREW H. H. DAWSON.
MRS. HENRY S. KIMBALL.
JOHN A. LOGAN.

The day is not far distant when the calling of the Grand Army of the Republic roll will find no member to answer present. There are now 4,863 posts and 120,000 members. The 1918 death rate was more than 1,000 a month. But affiliated organizations will preserve the observance of Memorial day.

Then there is the Spanish-American war—and its heroic American dead and its national organization.

And now there is the Great War—and its heroic American dead and its coming organization of veterans.

It is in every respect fitting that Memorial day this year and henceforth should also commemorate the heroic Americans who died in the Great War. For Memorial day there is an inspiring future.

Memorial day may even become an allied holiday.

GERMANS ASK FOR VOLUNTEERS

Leaders Insist Armed Resistance to Peace Terms Not Thought Of.

WANT TO PROTECT BORDER

Mobs in Berlin Protest Peace Terms —Huns' Reply Will Probably Be Delayed—New War Is Possible, Is Report.

Berlin, May 20.—Although government leaders insist armed resistance to the peace terms is out of the question, the army leaders are appealing to the Silesian population to join the volunteers.

The regiments composed of these men, it is planned, are to defend the country by concentrating on the border. The German leaders have dissolved the Polish supreme people's councils.

Gigantic demonstrations took place in Berlin Sunday protesting against the peace terms. Chancellor Scheidegg and members of his cabinet addressed large crowds. The spirit of all the demonstrations was one of defiance, which was fanned to intense fury by the speakers, who warned the populace to stand united against the "foreign foes" and to avoid all domestic disorder. The day marked the end of the "sackcloth and ashes" week decreed by President Ebert.

The preamble of Germany's main answer to the peace terms already in route from Berlin to Versailles, it was learned at the headquarters of Count von Bernstorff, "home chief" of the German peace machinery.

It was added that it was doubtful whether the complete German answer would be delivered by Wednesday, the date stipulated by Clemenceau. Extension of at least a few days is expected in official circles.

Dispatches to German newspapers from Versailles say the original plan of contrasting the peace treaty, chapter by chapter, with the 14 points has been abandoned and instead a condensed expose of the alleged conflicts with those points will be filed.

German officers are opposed to the terms, as they would mean that 50,000 of them would be jobless.

What is going to happen? There are three answers:

1. The government will accept revised terms, enabling them to remain in office. This would not be for long, however, as hunger would increase the revolutionary spirit, causing the overthrow of the ministry.
2. The Volunteer army will fight with all force, inasmuch as defeat would end their career anyway.
3. The government might resign without making a decision. This would unite the three Imperialistic parties.

Vinson Walsh McLean Run Down at Parents' Home Near Washington City.

Washington, May 20.—Vinson Walsh McLean, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deaf McLean, was run down by an automobile at Friendship, the country mansion of the McLeans here, receiving injuries from which he died.

The boy, famous several years ago as the two hundred million dollar baby, has been closely guarded all of his life and had left his bodyguard only a few minutes before the accident.

He had started across the roadway from the mansion when a Ford automobile in which three women rode bore down upon him.

The car stopped and the boy was picked up and taken to the mansion, where he died.

Keeping It Up.

A maid servant applied for a week-end off, as her home was distant, for the purpose of being at home on her parents' silver wedding day.

The leave was granted, and the maid returned.

"Well," said her mistress, "did everything go off satisfactory?"

"Oh, yes, thank you, ma'am," said the girl, "and mother told me to say she is very grateful to you for letting me off."

"And what did your father say?" asked the lady.

"Oh, lor! ma'am," replied the girl, "he wasn't there. He's been dead this 20 years."

HAROLD BOMERS, 150 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mystery Explained.

He stood amid the blaze and splendor of his magnificent mansion, and in his hand he held the portrait of a beautiful woman. His face was pale and haggard, and his lips moved convulsively.

What was this mystery. Was this the picture of his departed wife?

No.

Was it the portrait of his dead but dearly remembered daughter?

No.

What, then, was the cause, of his haggard face?

Was it not the same portrait that two minutes ago had fallen from its nail, and raised a lump as big as a hen's egg on his head?

It was.

A Diagnosis.

"Oh, doctor," said a worried looking agrarian, "My wife is in an awful condition! From a medium fat woman she has been reduced to skin and bones. She talks incessantly in a loud squawking voice, begins a sentence and never finishes it, and jumps from subject to subject without uttering anything that has the least sense to it."

"H'm! I see!" returned the physician. "Go home, Mr. Gabbieby, and take out your party line telephone at once. Your wife has been listening in on it too much."—Kansas City Star.

Don't Worry.

Else above small things. The woman who lets small things worry her will be completely undone the first time she meets with a really big problem. It is disintegrating to your mental and nervous condition, not to mention your physical condition, to worry. You need not be resigned to fate nor slip your troubles as the old friend duck's back, throws water. But you can meet troubles with a will to conquer them or adjust them—and after that "they should worry" but not you.—Exchange.

LOSS OF $200,000,000 TO PEOPLE OF COUNTRY CAUSED BY FOUR ALIEN PESTS

An Alien Rodent Executed in "Guillotine" Trap.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Four alien enemies have caused the people of this country two-thirds as much loss as more than 750 native rodents. The damage by the former is estimated at $200,000,000 annually, by the latter at $300,000,000 annually.

The chief alien enemies are the house mouse and three kinds of rats. The introduced European hare is also proving injurious in some localities. The natives are the more than 750 kinds of rodents that inhabit this continent north of Mexico.

Now, all of the 750 are, or may become, depredators, though many of them are only mildly and occasionally so, as is shown by the fact that together they accomplish only one and one-half times the damage caused by the four alien rodent pests.

For the aliens are in practically every house, every barn, every mill, every elevator, every storehouse, over most of the country, while the natives run largely in the fields, ranges and woods.

Native Rodent Bad, Too.

Some of our native rodents are very bad citizens—such as the prairie dog, the pocket gopher, the ground squirrel. Even that ancient rival of the weather bureau, the groundhog, sometimes causes great damage, crunching corn like a litter of shotes or mowing down alfalfa or soy beans like a herd of steers. Against all these, unremitting warfare should be waged—unrelenting or at least such occasional warfare as is necessary to hold them in check.

But the case is quite different as to certain other animals usually regarded as destructive—the skunk, the weasel, the mink, the fox, and the badger. These are among the most potent natural agents, says the United States department of agriculture, in preventing an undue increase in mice, rats, ground squirrels, pocket gophers, and the like. Some of these have been hunted, of course, for their valuable pelts, but they are hunted also because they are considered the enemies of domestic animals and game. Cog-
